SPECIAL EDITION

PRESS RELEASE

Tozzer 2 TPB gets a full color face-lift!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

This November, Ablaze Media launches Tozzer 2: Special Edition, collecting all 5 issues of the Tozzer 2 mini-series. 120 pages of Tozzer goodness is enough to get anyone excited, but the addition of full color artwork will have readers licking their lips in anticipation.

“Ever since the black and white issues came out, we’ve been inundated with emails, all containing the same four words: GIVE US COLOR NOW!” says writer Rob Dunlop.

“Fans wanted it, retailers wanted it, and we wanted it,” explains artist Peter Lumby, “so we began our search for the finest colorist in the universe. We hired an army of talent scouts and interviewed millions of applicants. After an exhaustive screening process, involving DNA profiling and three months training in Special Weapons And Tactics, we found our man, the phenomenally gifted Eric Erbes.”

“Working with the legendary Rob and Pete has been a dream come true,” says Eric. “They’re both really talented, funny, good-looking, all-round great guys, and they were even kind enough to write this quote for me.”

THE LOW-DOWN

Tozzer’s a 12-year-old boy who’s enrolled at a drama school in Hollywood. When the school is threatened by a deranged film director and his psychopathic minions, only one person can save the day. Tozzer might not be that person, but heck, he’ll give it his best shot.

Tozzer 2: Special Edition is a smart, funny, pop culture satire. The biggest stars in Hollywood are cut down to size, and movies such as Star Wars and The Matrix get a satirical pummeling. Creators Rob and Pete show no mercy, yet there’s always a good laugh behind their cruel jibes.

Silver Bullet Comics describes Tozzer 2 as a “mix of humor, modern culture and genius”, while Mass Movement hails it as “a modern classic”.

Tozzer 2: Special Edition is in September Previews - SEP05 2636, 120 pages, full color, $14.95.
